

Letter From Your Editor

re·spect rə.spekt

What does respect mean to you? Is respect paying attention to your teacher all day long? Or is it understanding your best friend's decision? For me, it's a recognizable trait that no one can take away. Respect is not just something you do everyday, but something that comes out of your heart. It is something that you decide about every day. You come to a classroom ready to respect your teacher and others but do you really mean it? Respect is more than just this. We respect others because we care about them. Respect is more than having pity and sympathy for a person. It's a connection between people who actually care about one another. As Thomas S. Monson said, "When we treat people merely as they are, they will remain as they are. When we treat them as if they were what they should be, they will become what they should be." So remember this: respect everyone you meet.

Sincerely,

Our New Vice Principal!

By Zoey Belton, Ram Isaiah, and Yahshua Solwazi

As you may know, Ms. Rawlins is our new vice principal here at Union House Elementary. Before she came to Union House, Ms. Rawlins worked at Markham Elementary School in the Oakland Unified School District, in Campbell Unified School District, and at a charter school in Morgan Hill. Ms. Rawlins went to California State University Sacramento for college. To Ms. Rawlins, the best thing about Union House is that she had family who either taught here or went here. Ms. Rawlins loves to get to know the kids and parents, and also loves to support students. She has a dog named Tinx, and a younger brother. In Ms. Rawlins' free time, she likes to travel, shop, bake or cook, and watch movies. Ms. Rawlins' sister-in-law, who is a principal, encouraged her to become a teacher, but later on, she became a vice principal! Thanks to Ms. Rawlins, our school has improved.
